

Air Pilot Valve Actuators

M-MPA-10

Air Pilot Valve Actuators thread onto the tops of Clippard miniature 2-Way, 3-Way, and 4-Way valves to provide fast pilot actuation from a pneumatic signal. They permit wide circuit flexibility and minimize cost, hazards and complexity by allowing many control functions to be accomplished pneumatically.

|                  |                                                                                      |
|------------------|--------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|
| Accessories      | Actuator Spacer 12098-PKG Pkg. of 10, 12098-BLK Bulk |
| Bore Size        | 1 1/4"                                                                               |
| Input PSI        | 10 bar                                                                               |
| Length           | 1.656                                                                                |
| Material, Body   | Brass, Delrin Piston                                                                 |
| Material, Seals  | Nitrile                                                                              |
| Material, Spring | Stainless Steel                                                                      |
| Max PSI          | 10.3 bar                                                                             |
| Medium           | Air                                                                                  |
| Mount            | M12x0.75 Female Thread                                                               |
| Port, Inlet      | #10-32                                                                               |
| Unit             | Metric                                                                               |
| Weight (lbs.)    | 0.0700                                                                               |

